They are Phyllis Elaine Huffman, Anna Catherine Faulkner, and Gail Yvonne Carey. They all earned straight "A" grades during their high school careers, tying for high honors.

The salutatorian also is a girl, Patricia Ruth Montgomery. Her grade average at 3.931 was just shy of the perfect 4.0.

Miss Huffman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Huffman of 152 Clover avenue. Miss Faulkner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Faulkner of 652 Windsor street. Miss Carey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Carey of 251 Merchant avenue and Miss Montgomery is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Montgomery of 865 East Church street.

Active In Club

All four of the senior girls have been active in extra-curricular activities as well as diligent in their studies.

Miss Huffman has been taking a general course and is planning to attend Capital University in Columbus next fall. She has been editor of the yearbook Quiver,

Private Talk With Truman Is Issue

M'Arthur Hearing Stalls On Forcing Bradley To Speak

WASHINGTON, May 16--(AP)—The Senate inquiry into Gen Douglas MacArthur's dismissal was broken off today by a hot argument over whether Gen. Omar Bradley should tell about his private talks with President Truman.

Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, refused yesterday to tell what he and Mr. Truman said to each other prior to the firing of the Far Eastern commander. Today, the White House said Mr. Truman does not want Bradley to do so.

Nevertheless, some Republicans on the inquiry panel—made up of the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees—were insistent that Bradley should tell.

While Bradley sat silently in the witness chair for more than two hours today, the senators argued heatedly. Charges implied and direct, of trying to play politics figured in the debate.

Will Vote On Issue

In the upshot:

1. Bradley was dismissed as a witness until Monday.

2. The senators agreed to vote at noon tomorrow on whether they should insist that the five-star general tell them about his conference with the President.

This left the course of the inquiry up in the air for the immediate future, but stymied it for the day at least.

Atop the charges hurled in the committee room itself, Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) told reporters on leaving that he fears Republicans may be "trying to sabotage" the whole inquiry into MacArthur's ouster.

He criticized G.O.P. "huddles" on the matter, and said he had hoped the hearings would not become a "partisan fight."

On the other side, Senator Knowland (R-Calif) said Bradley's refusal to talk about his conferences with Mr. Truman raised a question whether the White House was lowering an "Iron Curtain" on the testimony of witnesses.

Truman Says No

The President's own attitude was made known at the White House while the senators argued at the Capitol. Presidential secretary Joseph Short said Mr. Truman is "against" Bradley's telling of their private conversations on MacArthur.

"The President made the decision (to fire MacArthur)," Short told reporters. "Conversations that led up to it are his business."

In the Capitol argument, Knowland contended that if an "Iron Curtain" is rung down on some phases of MacArthur's dismissal, then the inquiry group may have to report to the Senate that the investigation cannot be conducted as it should be.

Russell, who heads the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees inquiry, told his colleagues:

"I have tried to sit here not as a Republican or Democrat but as an American. I have devoutly hoped from the moment these hearings opened that they would not degenerate into a partisan fight where the Republicans would have huddles here and the Democrats would have huddles there."

Russells flare-up came while Gen. Omar Bradley waited to testify for the second day.

It developed out of the demand by Senator Wiley (R-Wis) yesterday that Bradley tell what was said at conferences with President Truman on firing General MacArthur.

Bradley Protests

Bradley protested then that he had talked with the President in a "confidential relationship" and he thought he should not relate anything about it.

Russell, in speaking of "huddles," referred to conferences among some of the Republican committee members as to whether Wiley should insist that Bradley tell of the talks with Mr. Truman.

The chairman spoke his mind at considerable length, despite efforts by Wiley to interrupt.

When Wiley finally got in a word, he declared he did not like the way Russell "suggested that because a few of us Republicans got together and talked the matter over that it was a partisan matter."

Wiley said Russell had implied that "some of us are not judicial, are not bipartisan."

Russell retorted he had said nothing about being judicial, but "did challenge the non-partisan aspects of your meeting."

Suggested Delay

When the committee met today, Wiley himself suggested it delay until tomorrow a decision whether to support a ruling by Russell that Bradley did not have to answer the question.

Russell objected to the delay, calling for a showdown vote on the question. Democrats contend that Russell's ruling will be upheld if it is tested.

Under Senate rules, a decision such as Russell's can be "appealed"—meaning a senator who thinks the ruling is wrong can

BRADLEY CENTER OF HOT DEBATE. Senators investigating the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur debated today whether or not they should insist Gen. Omar Bradley tell them about his private talks with President Truman. May Be Start Of Expected Offensive

Strike Strong Blows From Chunchon To Sea of Japan

TOKYO, Thursday, May 17—(AP)—Red Chinese pour out of the hills in attack all along the eastern front of Korea Wednesday night.

It was too early to tell whether it was the start of the expected Red offensive, or new probing in force.

They struck strong blows from Chunchon, 45 miles northeast of Seoul, Eastward to the Sea of Japan.

The attacks came not long after Maj. Gen William Hoge, commander of the U. S. Ninth Corps, predicted the Red offensive would open Friday. Hoge said his troops would welcome it.

The general said if the Chinese follow their "previous pattern of attacking on the full moon, the blow should come soon. The moon comes full on the 18th of the month. That gives him two days."

390,000 Ready

Allied intelligence officers said a striking force of 390,000 Reds was ready for the signal to begin their biggest offensive of the war.

One United Nations divisional officer said the communist 'will have to do more probing' before the attack. "They are not too familiar with our defense lines."

Allied patrols reaching across the 10 mile wide no-man's-land also probed continually into Chinese buildups. Deeper penetrations ran into artillery fire from self-propelled guns.

A divisional spokesman said increasing numbers of Red prisoners were being brought back, indicating a weakening of Communist morale.

"Paper Tiger"

Peiping radio sought to bolster Chinese troops by asserting that they have shown that the United States is nothing but a paper tiger." The Red China broadcast said the war will continue until "we drive the mad, shameless American imperialists completely out of Korea."

American troops, somewhat bored with waiting, have been in a two and a half week lull to thoroughly bolster their defenses. A division spokesman said United Nations forces are probably in the best positions they have enjoyed yet. He said they're confident and in good spirits.

The Chinese sharpened their probing attacks Wednesday morning, concentrating on the central front. They have moved in considerable strength across the Pukhan and Soyang rivers on either side of Chunchon.

One bugle blowing attack opened allies from their positions east of Chunchon before artillery broke up the Chinese force.

Korean Reds in vicinity of Inje, after reconquering the midway town on the Eastern front.

Skirmishing stepped up on the western front, too, with several sharp clashes about 17 miles north of Seoul. The Reds turned artillery tank guns on one armored American reconnaissance patrol.

Fighting early Wednesday was heavier than the customary patrol actions. But none of it reached battle size.

Bugle blowing Communist troops Chinese struck at 1:30 a.m. of Chunchon U.N. troops withdrew under the heaviest attack supported by artillery rifle fire.

After the U.N. withdrawal by American guns opened up inflicting heavy casualties on the Reds.

The Reds penetrated Chunchon 45 miles northeast of Seoul, but were driven out.

Communists also used artillery heavily in the eastern sector, supporting an unsuccessful attack east of Inje.

Heavy use of artillery is customary before a Communist offensive.

DIES ON STAGE

BALTIMORE, May 16—(AP)—Cellist Felix Robert Mendelssohn, great grand nephew of the famous German composer, died on the concert stage last night. The 60-year-old musician was in the midst of Dohnanyi's concert piece in D major—a composition he introduced to the world in Berlin in 1918—when the bow went limp in his grasp and he collapsed.

Defends Trade With Chinese

Jebb Pledges Full British Help Against Red Menace

NEW YORK, May 16—(AP)—Sir Gladwyn Jebb, chief British delegates to the United Nations, has pledged that Britain will stand "whole-heartedly with the United States in the general struggle against Communist-inspired aggression.

Jebb defended Britain's record in the Korean war and her trade policy toward Red China in a speech before the New York City Bar Association.

Great Britain, he declared, "is wholeheartedly with the United States in the general struggle against Communist-inspired aggression. x x x everything we can do, short of fatally weakening our main position, to assist the general effort, we shall do, even if that results, as it may well result, in some lowering of the standard of living in Great Britain itself, which has been so laboriously built up since the war."

No More Rubber

He said that Britain early in the war halted exports of strategic material to Communist China, particularly petroleum products, but not rubber. Now, he said rubber shipments also are embargoed.

The British diplomat predicted that the U. N. general assembly will adopt far-reaching embargo recommendations later this week. The 60-nation assembly political committee meets at Flushing Meadow tomorrow to open debate on the embargo plan, recommended by a 12-nation sanctions committee Monday.

Britain is joining the U. S., France, Australia and Venezuela in presenting the resolution. It calls for halting export of arms, ammunition, atomic energy materials, petroleum and other war materials to Red China.

France has introduced an amendment which also would include transport materials in the ban.

Jebb told the Bar Association he had "often heard it alleged that we had subordinated our support for the United Nations to our own commercial interests in Hong Kong."

"Nothing could be further from the truth," he declared.

Senate Vote Set On Grain For India

May Come Tod . ; Bill Before House Still Awaits Debate

WASHINGTON, May 16—(AP)—The Senate agreed to begin voting today on the disputed bill to supply 2,000,000 tons of grain—mostly wheat—to combat famine in India. Passage seemed assured during the afternoon.

The first amendment to be considered would provide that all of the $190,000,000 worth of U. S. food would be paid for by a loan from the U. S. to India. The Senate agreed to limit debate both on amendments and final passage.

As it emerged from the foreign relations committee, the measure provided that half of the grain should be a gift and half paid for by a loan.

But Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), who headed a bipartisan group of 31 senators in sponsoring the bill, announced on the floor yesterday he would be willing to accept the change to a straight loan basis.

Soon Approved

This signified the amendment probably would be approved although some of the sponsors, such as Senator Humphrey (D-Minn), still insisted all of the grain should be donated to India. This was the suggestion of President Truman in passing along to Congress India's request for help.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), who offered the amendment for a 100 percent loan, said India itself had not asked for a gift.

A grant, he said would be "part of a carefree, grandiose, global giveaway philosophy."

Smith backed Ferguson, contending that the Indian government had indicated it would prefer a straight loan to the half grant-half loan basis.

Debate in the Senate has centered on two points aside from the humanitarian motive — the

Defense Production Act Status Seen Doubtful

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON, May 16—(AP)—The chairman of the Senate banking committee says the Defense Production Act (DPA) and the wage-price controls it authorizes are in danger of rejection by Congress.

I want to warn the administration," Senator Maybank (D-NC) told price director Michael V. DiSalle, that "I do not know if there is going to be any extension." The present law expires June 30. Maybank's committee is holding hearings on President Truman's request that DPA be extended, broadened and strengthened.

Maybank ordered a closed session today to explore with Secretary of Agriculture Brannan how far he plans to go if Congress does extend the act and grants powers to pay subsidies on farm products to keep consumer prices down.

Fears Price Rise

Maybank said defense officials feared premature disclosure of what crops Brannan had in mind might send their prices soaring. He said Brannan also would testify at a public hearing immediately after the closed one.

The committee gave DiSalle a rough going over at a hearing yesterday.

Maybank said, "It is going to be very, very hard to get any bill passed at all."

DiSalle said he had "more confidence in the sense of responsibility of Congress than to believe it would allow the act to expire and kill off the system of wage and price controls.

Maybank told reporters later he has found "a lot of opposition" to renewal of the act, and "a surprising lack of public interest" in keeping it alive.

The house banking committee is also conducting hearings on extension of DPA. Its chairman, Rep. Spence (D-Ky) told a meet-

Army Seizes Government Of Bolivia

President Flees Country; General Succeeds to Office

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA, May 16—(AP)—The Army seized the government of Bolivia today. President Memerto Urriolagoitia left the country and Gen. Hugo Ballivian was installed as president and minister of defense by a military junta.

The political color of the upheaval in this turbulent, tin-rich nation was not immediately clear.

The military junta, however, issued a manifesto saying the new government would control the mineral resources of the country and that these would be used "for the benefit of the public and in projects for the progress and development of the nation."

The upheaval took place in an atmosphere of tension after the May 6 elections in which Victor Paz Estenssoro, exiled leader of the nation's tin miners, won most voters but not enough to gain a clear majority which would entitle him automatically to the presidency.

Deposed President Urriolagoitia departed the capital for Arica, across the border in Chile. He left this statement:

"In spite of my constant efforts to keep the political struggle within peaceful and tranquil processes, I have been unable to extinguish political passions and the country again finds itself in the dilemma of saving democracy or delivering the power to those who fight it in an effort to kill it.

"For this reason, I am delivering the high office of constitua step obviously would be higher prices, and advised against it, but promised to make the estimate.

The indictments grew out of sales involving the Chaseland Court real estate project near Columbus.

Report U. S. Backs British Stand In Iran

LONDON, May 16—(AP)—The United States has approved a note on the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute which Britain is about to send to the Iranian government, authoritative sources reported today.

The note, understood to be firm in tone but conciliatory in its terms, was expected to be dispatched to Tehran within the next 24 hours.

A government spokesman said Britain and the United States had reached a "general alignment of views" on the oil dispute and the approach to the Iranian government.

The terms of the note were understood to have been slightly softened by the foreign office during the State Department and U.S. Ambassador Walter S. Gifford.

Informed sources said the note will contain a blunt warnin to Iran of the dangers facing the country if the oil dispute is allowed to deteriorate and the oil industry is upset by "incompetent handling."

The note insisted upon immediate opening of negotiations for an agreed settlement If Iran accepts the proposal for negotiations,

Leesville Boy Falls Into Pond, Drowns

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, May 16—Charles Frederick McFarland, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McFarland of Leesville, was drowned yesterday afternoon after falling into a pond at the rear of his home.

Death occurred at about 2:30 p. m. when he wandered away from his mother. The body was discovered floating on four feet of water by the mother and a neighbor, Mrs. Burke Volk. Artificial respiration was administered by the Crestline Fire Department but it is believed the child was dead before the department arrived. Crawford County Coroner O. R. Kackley returned a verdict of death by accidental drowning.

The child was born July 21, 1947 at Leesville, the son of Charles and Faith Beegle McFarland. He is survived by his parents, a sister, Jane Anne, 11, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. John McFarland all of Leesville.

The body was removed to the Robert F. Beck Funeral Home here. Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at St. John's Lutheran Church at Leesville with Rev. Robert Miller officiating. Burial will be made in Leesville Cemetery. Friends may call at the family home.

Defense Pact May Cover Middle East

U. S. Would Include Greece, Turkey In North Atlantic Pact

WASHINGTON, May 16—(AP)—The U. S. has opened talks with other members of the North Atlantic alliance to find out whether they will agree to extend the security system to Greece and Turkey.

Several of the other 11 members in the past have been strongly opposed to extending the treaty system into the Middle East and some of the best informed officials here doubt they will change their positions readily.

However, foreign diplomats indicated that upon U. S. suggestion the British government was willing to review its opposition and consider a change. This may also be true of other member governments.

Has U. S. Approval

The fact the U. S. is undertaking these talks at all means this government favors membership for the two Near Eastern countries—and perhaps other Mediterranean lands—as the best way in its view of meeting their continued demands for American backed protection against the threat of Communist attack.

A London story yesterday said the U. S. ambassador there, Walter Gifford, had asked the British government for support in an effort to include Greece and Turkey as full members in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). After first declining comment, the State Department said last night there are "valid reasons" for considering security arrangements for Greece and Turkey, but did not say what those reasons are. The department added that this government has opened talks with the British and French on the subject since they already have treaties with Turkey.

Chief Members

Britain and France are two of the chief members of the Atlantic alliance. The State Department reported that "because membership in NATO would be one method for providing for the security arrangements, we expect also to discuss the subject in the near future with the governments of all countries in NATO."

If the Washington idea of broadening the treaty—which re-

Soup Sauces Add Appeal to Vegetable Dishes

HERE'S a way to spread sunshine if your family usually greets vegetables with gloom. Flatter foods with rich creamy soup-sauce. Cream of mushroom, chicken and celery soups all have ways to make fresh spring vegetables melt in your mouth.

Try the chicken or mushroom soup with new little green peas or tender asparagus. And any of these soup-sauces team well with cooked carrots, green snap beans, or corn. The sauces have two other special advantages besides their good eating qualities; they're quick to fix and they're kind to the budget. Here are some pleasing vegetable - sauce combinations guaranteed to bring a gleam to the eye.

Potatoes and Peas in Mushroom Sauce: Stir 2 cups of cooked peas into 1 can of condensed cream of mushroom soup (blended and heated with ¼ cup of milk) Pour over cooked new potatoes (6 to 8 small ones).

Asparagus with Chicken Cream Sauce: Over 1 pound of cooked asparagus, pour this cream of chicken soup with ½ cup milk; heat well and serve.

Carrots in Celery Cream Sauce. Over 1 pound of cooked sliced carrots, pour this sauce Mix 1 can condensed cream of celery soup with ¼ cup milk; heat well and serve.

Truman Sister's Limousine Ride Ends in Court

WASHINGTON, May 16—(AP)—Rep. Keating (R-NY), who for the second time has produced information calculated to embarrass the Democratic occupants of the White House, yesterday told the House a government-owned limousine, bearing President Truman's sister, was stopped for speeding at 70 to 75 miles an hour through Hopewell, N. Y., last Saturday.

The driver of the car, whom Keating named as Grady A. Stowe, a special agent assigned to guard a member of the President's family, was fined $20 by a justice of the peace.

Stowe, Keating said, wasn't able to produce a driver's license. He told authorities according to Keating's report, that "the President will be distressed if his sister is detained."

Prior to his disclosure of the speeding incident Keating predicted some weeks ago that a White House employe who was the recipient of a much-publicized mink coat, would be discharged. She was Mrs. E. Merl Young, whose husband was accused by a Senate committee of "influencing" Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) loan policy The mink coat was paid for, as a loan to Young, by a lawyer for a New York furrier seeking an RFC loan.

The White House denied the report. But accepted Mrs Young's resignation about two weeks later

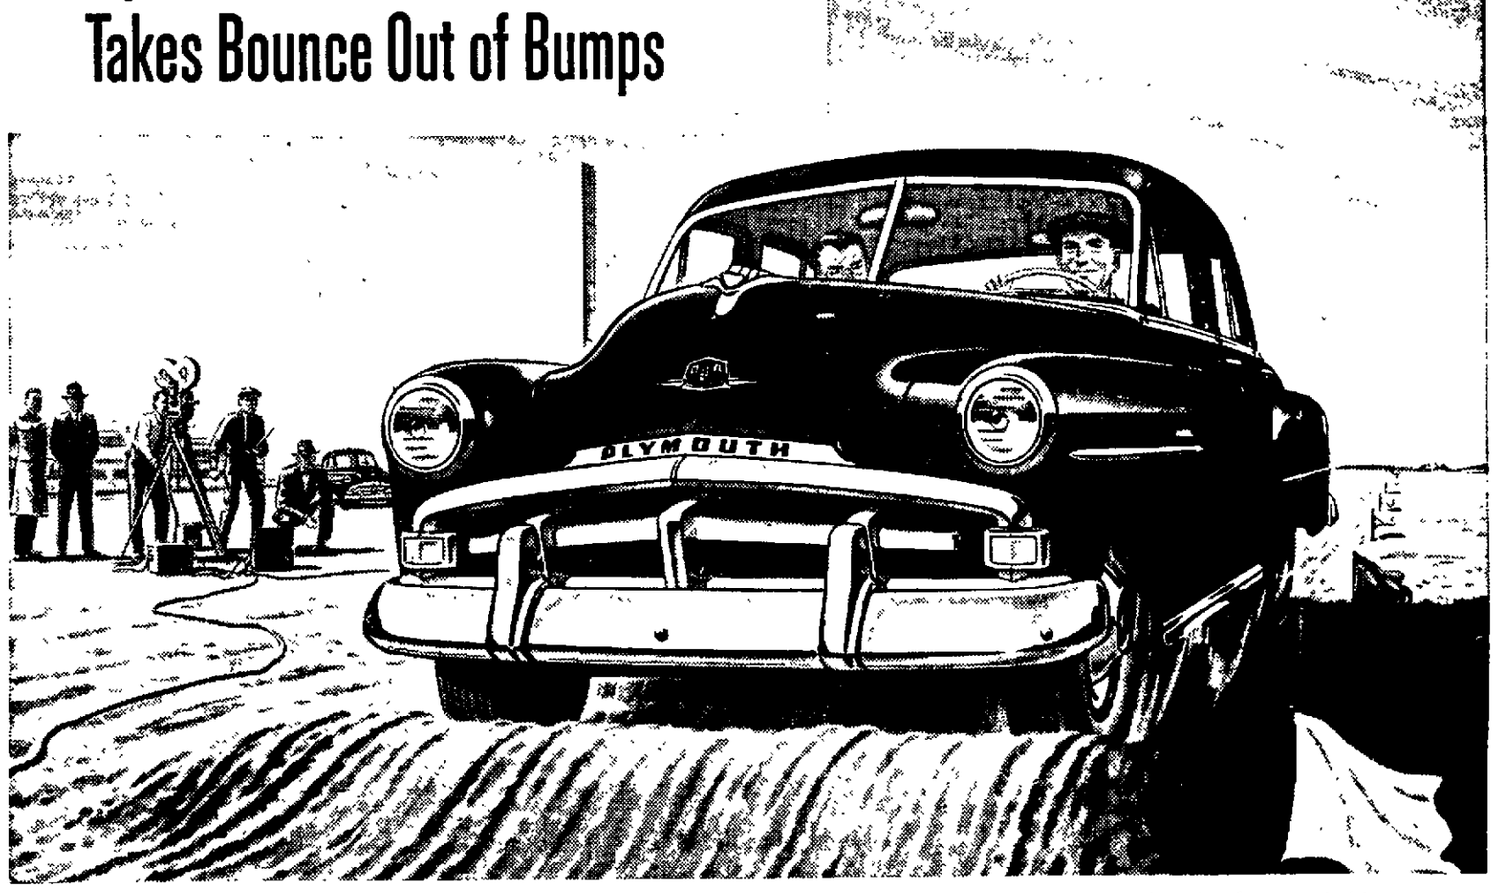
Plymouth's New "Safety-Flow Ride" Takes Bounce Out of Bumps



MOTION PICTURES made by our engineers show how little the new Plymouth goes up and down when passing over a bump, compared to cars that do not have the new "Safety-Flow Ride." New Oriflow shock absorbers, along with balanced weight distribution, synchronized springing, and other engineering features, hold the car closer to a level plane. They give Plymouth the riding qualities of a car weighing a thousand pounds more, in the opinion of Tom McCahill, automotive expert, writing in Mechanix Illustrated.

OUR TEST DRIVERS repeatedly drove the new Plymouth across ditches and deep holes. Instead of the terrific pitching and tossing you'd expect, the car absorbed the impact and stayed under easy control.

"SAFETY-FLOW RIDE" IS SO STEADY, even on rough roads, that you don't worry about giving rear seat passengers a toss or thump. This means peace of mind as well as bodily comfort. It's relaxed and restful—a completely new experience in riding comfort.

HEADS UP! With "Safety-Flow Ride" you can forget about the condition of the road immediately in front of the car and give your entire attention to oncoming traffic, pedestrians, and intersections ahead.

Veterans and Draftees Guide — By Major Thomas M. Nial

This story tells some basic questions answered about the new G.I. insurance law. (1) veterans not back in service, (2) new draftees and enlistees, and (3) NSLI policyholders presently on active duty.

Vets who have not returned to service need not worry if they have had a full $10,000 of NSLI. They still have all the rights to reinstatement, conversion, dividends, etc. But if they have less than $10,000 or none at all—they may find themselves out of step if they want to pay insurance on the sly.

Only those who once had NSLI and let it lapse, and even then they have a right to it only within the next five years. Once that term expires, they've lost their chance.

Mike G. got a $10,000 NSLI policy when he was drafted in May 1944. Pop took him out before Jan. 1, 1951, time for an automatic boost. Even though Mike kept up $9,000 of his NSLI after discharge, he may reinstate the other $1,000 anytime before May 1954. After that, the $1,000 will be cut to its face value, which he must pay for out of that time.

Pete, who had a $10,000 NSLI policy when he was drafted in September 1942, cut it the whole time he was in service. He's going back after discharge. He's lost all right to any more NSLI. His eight-year term was up in September 1950.

POLICIES TAKEN on or after June 1, 1940, run for a five-year term. Before then, how much you got depended on your age.

Both officers and non-commissioned officers and all others who now go into service for the first time no longer will be issued NSLI policies. They're protected free for $10,000, draftees from the time they arrive at the draft board ready to be shipped off for induction, and all others from the time they start for their first duty stations. They may name one or more from their families as beneficiaries to get the $10,000, not in a lump sum, but in monthly payments for ten years.

Most of the confusion is about NSLI policyholders now in active service. Those with term NSLI may waive premiums and pick up payments again within 120 days after separation. If the term expires meanwhile, their policies are renewed automatically for five years.

That's simple enough, but may those with permanent policies waive all their premiums? No siree! Just that part of each month's premium which represents pure insurance risk.

AS YOU MAY KNOW, a portion of a permanent plan premium, like an entire term premium, pays only for the cost of insuring you. A permanent plan premium in addition includes a savings factor, the so-called "reserve."

In the early years of the policy, little of the premiums go towards paying death benefits for others of your age group. In the later years, more of your age group are dying and the risk is greater, so a bigger chunk of your premium goes to pay their death benefits. But your premium remains the same because you've built up a reserve.

The new G.I. insurance law says NSLI policyholders in service may waive the pure insurance part of their premiums but must pay the reserve if they do so. This has the VA buffaloed, because the reserve portion of a premium is different every month. How can you set up a simple system to allot a different amount each month from servicemen's pay?

Insurance men for the VA and Defense Department are scratching their heads, trying to dope out a good method. In any case, present NSLI policyholders in uniform may not waive their premiums before this June 2, and some system should be firmed up by then.

Commissioners Ass'n. Elects Marion Man

Walter S. Guthrie, clerk of the Marion County board of commissioners, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Central Northwestern Commissioners' Association at a bi-monthly meeting of the group held last night at Kenton.

It will be the eighth straight term for Mr. Guthrie. Verne Powell, Hancock County commissioner, was named president; Wyandot County Commissioner Ross Winters was elect vice president.

Ninety members and guests attended the meeting held at the Hardin County Fairgrounds. Seventeen counties are included in the association.

Mrs. Emma Orth, Hardin County resident, was guest speaker. She spoke on a recent trip around the world. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilson of Kenton and included accordion, harmonica and vocal selections. The next meeting of the group will be held July 9 at the Fairway Club east of Galion.

SEE DOE AT ASHLEY

ASHLEY—Mrs. Paul Weiser of near Ashley who was hanging clothes Monday, saw a doe come from the south cross the highway and bound into the thicket between the Walter Holt and Richardson farms. Donald Jones, who lives on the Holt farm, also saw the animal.

EMPLOYES RESIGN

MARYSVILLE — Two county employes have resigned their position within the past week. Miss Madeline Fuson of Marysville, is replacing Mrs. Robert Crothers as public health nurse with the department of health. Mrs. Eleanore Adams, formerly employed in the Union County Sheriff's office has been replaced by Elizabeth Miller of Marysville.

ACCIDENTS INCREASE

BUCYRUS — Traffic accidents continued their upward trend here last month, Police Chief Arthur L. Stuckert reported today. April mishaps totaled 33, compared with 22 for April, 1950. Since Jan. 1, accidents now total 122 against only 85 for the first four months of 1950. Five persons have been injured in accidents this year, while seven suffered injuries at the end of April, 1950. There have been no fatalities since 1949.

Getting on With It

EVEN we Americans have doubts sometimes about free and open discussion. We begin to wonder whether the discussion is going around in circles, or whether it is leading us toward the solution of a problem.

That has been the recent state of the Senate investigations set off by Gen. MacArthur's return to the United States after he had been relieved of his command in Tokyo. The sessions are interesting. They were important. They were embarrassing. They were full of dynamite.

But were they helping the United States to solve the problem which set off the MacArthur incident in the first place—the problem of getting on more successfully with the war begun in Korea by the Communist conspiracy 11 months ago?

The true answer is probably yes and no. The hearings were clearing up some aspects of the problem, but they were in danger of running on interminably. Gen. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, must have had something like that in mind when he began to testify Monday.

He attempted to bring the hearings to a focus by declaring that Gen. MacArthur was relieved of his command because he favored measures in Asia which would increase the risk of global war. The United States, Gen. Bradley says, is not ready for that kind of a showdown with the Soviet Union, and the Soviet Union knows it.

But the United States is improving its position, the Soviet Union knows that, too. Therefore it would like to pin down this country in Asia, which Gen. Bradley asserts would be the wrong war at the wrong place at the wrong time against the wrong enemy." It is not Red China that Americans are trying to bar from world conquest but Red Russia. Or, as Gen. MacArthur said in his address to Congress, the Red Chinese are the dupes of the Kremlin, not its ideological converts.

The strategy, therefore—according to Bradley—is to keep the Reds from controlling Korea by fighting a limited war against them there, without getting involved in a major war, if a major war can be averted.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff thinks the strategy has been successful. Gen. MacArthur thinks it has been unsuccessful.

Both want to get on with the war. On that much they can agree. It is time to quit talking about it and get on with it.

Center of Attention

THE special attention being given the Armed Forces as May 19 approaches is justified.

May 19 is the second time the nation has celebrated Armed Forces Day. It is the first time it has celebrated the occasion since the United States began to sustain military losses in Korea.

During the current year, about 42 cents of every dollar spent by the government is going directly to the Armed Forces. Next year, based on current estimates, the Armed Forces will get at least 56 cents.

Anything which takes more than half of the federal government's income is worth all the special attention that can be given to it. Americans should honor the brave men who fight in their name. They should know everything possible about the complex structure of military security.

They should understand the significance of the drift toward a "garrison state," and of course they should understand why the drift is traceable to the Soviet Union.

May 19 should be an occasion for understanding, not celebrating. There is nothing to celebrate in the fact that militarism takes more than half of the government's income when there is no large-scale war in progress.

DiSalle's Philosophy

IF MIKE DISALLE can keep his sense of humor he will go down in the record as the leader of a new philosophy about public service.

DiSalle was tapped to administer price stabilization after a number of other men had turned down the appointment. He went to Washington with no illusions about being indispensable. He was even asked that he was keeping his luggage handy for the return trip to Toledo.

He has no illusions about price stabilization, either. He knows it is a mess and admits it may be a flop. But he will do the best he can and hope for the best. Being a party politician, he does not even pretend to have illusions about patronage. The choice jobs are being handed out to the faithful, to the indignation of partisan critics, but probably not to their surprise.

Last week, DiSalle turned a congressional hearing on price controls into a good-humor session, with himself as the butt of the ridicule. This is the substance of the philosophy which may be his principal contribution to government in these times—that any man who tackles a job as big as price stabilization is bound to look pretty ridiculous and must be prepared to do it.

If the rides he gets in will help some of the things the United States has to do are fundamentally ridiculous, it will help to get over the public that they should quit blaming individuals and blame ideas, instead.

Truman's Message

By David Lawrence

MacArthur Given Responsibility for Decision

PRESIDENT TRUMAN placed upon General MacArthur on Jan. 13 last the responsibility of deciding whether or not to evacuate United Nations troops from Korea—a question of both policy and military importance not only to America but to her allies.

That's the reason why the Jan. 13 message from the President was not a "directive." General MacArthur was to decide, after reading some general observations from the President.

This information, obtained from Capitol Hill sources, is partly revealed in the testimony of General Marshall.

LAWRENCE

The all-important message which General MacArthur sent to Washington just prior to Jan. 13 asked specific instruction on three points—whether he was to evacuate his troops from Korea, hold on for a limited period, or try to stay on indefinitely. The general asked for such instructions because previous messages to him were not clear. He never did get a direct reply to his queries. Instead, a message in abstract terms came from the President referring to various objectives of the war in Korea and winding up with the comment that the message was not a "directive."

General Collins, who was in Tokyo conferring with General MacArthur at the time, thought Mr. Truman meant that the U.N. forces were to stay a limited time. General Vandenberg, who was present at the Tokyo conference, expressed the opinion that the President's message meant an indefinite resistance and no evacuation.

GENERAL MACARTHUR himself interpreted the President's message to mean that he should continue indefinitely to resist and that evacuation was not to be considered at all. He promptly notified General Ridgway of this decision.

The interesting thing about the episode is that, despite the presence in Washington of most of the high officials who comprise the National Security Council, including the President, the administration here declined to take the responsibility for making the real decision of policy at that time in Korea.

While this very important conference was going on in Tokyo, General Collins had with him a copy of the Jan. 12 recommendations of the Joint Chiefs of Staff covering the four points first mentioned in General MacArthur's address to Congress concerning a blockade, the use of Nationalist troops, and air reconnaissance over Manchuria and China's coastal areas.

It was mentioned in the conference but no copy of this memorandum was left with General MacArthur. Nothing was said to him to the effect that, when he did get the Jan. 12 communication—as he did two weeks later by mail—he was to disregard it or to consider it as having been modified by the very general observations made in the Jan. 13 message of the President.

THE FOREGOING illustrates why Senator Russell of Georgia, Democrat, chairman of the Senate armed services committee, notified General Marshall on Monday that the committee had been getting information and messages in "dribbles" and that now it wanted a complete and comprehensive account of the messages exchanged and not just portions of the messages.

Again and again senators asked the Secretary of Defense to point out in what respects the Jan. 13 message from President Truman to General MacArthur was to be considered as modifying or contradicting the Jan. 12 paper of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Secretary Marshall declined to give this information, stating that he preferred the committee get it from General Bradley.

Senator Russell also pointed out to Secretary Marshall that the committee was desirous of getting a written memorandum stating specifically what directives or orders or policies General MacArthur is alleged to have violated as a forerunner to dismissal. Up to now the testimony of the Secretary of Defense on this has been far from clear.

WHEN OTHER WITNESSES are put on the stand, it will become apparent that the so-called "directive" of Dec. 6, which asked that all officials here and abroad refrain from making public statements without clearing them with Washington, was interpreted by Washington officials themselves—who advised General MacArthur—as intended to apply to addresses and speeches and not to the commander's comment on military events in Korea nor to conversations or letters. If the latter fact is established—namely, that General MacArthur was so advised subsequent to the Dec. 6 "directive"—this important bit of evidence would throw a good deal of light on the whole controversy. Senators familiar with the background say such evidence exists and will be produced.

Cotton Corners

DEAR Nephew: Once a year, I wonder why I plant a garden. I usually do this on or about the time I rub up my third blister. But I do not wonder long.

I do not go to all that work to save money. That is the reason large families should have gardens, but your Aunt Effie and I do not eat enough to make a garden a financial necessity.

I do not do it because I like to work in a garden, which always has struck me as the silliest reason of all. Show me a man or a woman who says working in a garden is fun, and I will show you someone who hires most of the work done. Or someone who has nothing better to do with his time than fiddle with hoes, rakes and cultivators.

Certainly I do not plant a garden and keep it cultivated because I think it is my duty to anyone. Victory gardening, for example, left me limp. This country always has had more garden truck lying around than it could use to good advantage.

Still and all, there has to be some reason why I grunt, groan, creak and crackle over this gardening business, and I think I know what it is. It is because I cannot suppress an instinct which was part of my original equipment. It is the instinct to make the good earth be fruitful.

Not everybody has the instinct. I have known people in my time whose only noticeable instinct lay in the opposite direction. They wanted to trample out every evidence of fruitfulness. They had an instinct to lay waste and ruin, which may be part of the over-all plan for keeping the rest of us from having things too easy.

I think it works out similarly in other things. Some people feel like creating — building houses, roads, buildings, reforesting the barren land, making things look better and be more useful than they are now. Others get queasy at the thought of doing anything like this. They are exploiters. They use up things. Still others have no interest in either creating or using. They waste things. It is all part of the plan.

And every year it catches me in a weak moment and I plant a garden big enough to feed all the U.N. allies of the good old U.S.A. in Korea, excepting the Koreans. As I say, I wonder why I do it. But I know. It makes me feel good.

Won't be long till those boys are free to come for a long visit. I hope they will decide in our favor. Regards to all of you.

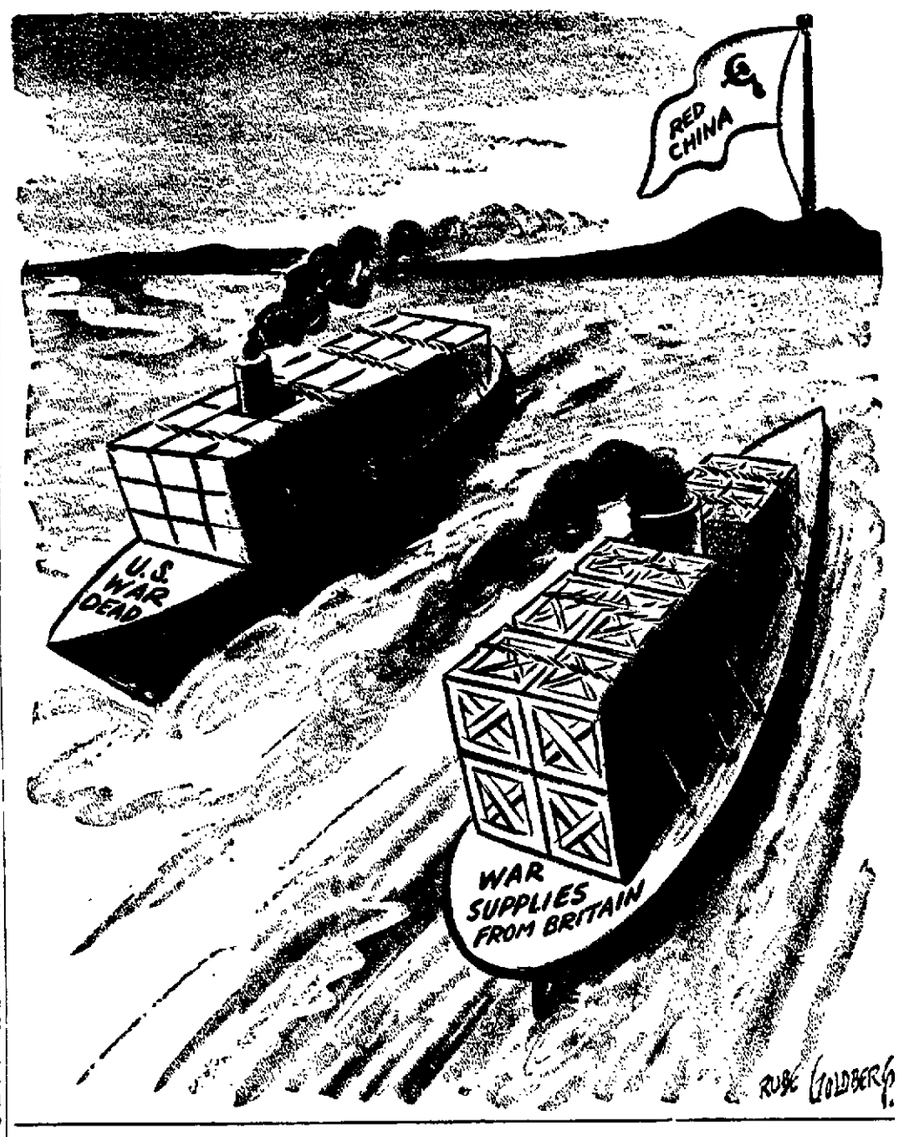
Ships That Pass in the Night



Essence of the MacArthur Position

By George E. Sokolsky

THE long and voluminous testimony of General MacArthur at no point is more interesting than in the debate with Senator J. William Fulbright of Arkansas. Here was no ordinary politician defending a faulty administration. Senator Fulbright is a Rhodes scholar, a graduate of Oxford, a former university president. His political doctrine is global, universalist, and even anti-nationalist.

The debate with Senator Fulbright gave General MacArthur an opportunity to explain the nature of Chinese society. This is what he said:

SOKOLSKY

"It is a country of poverty. The slightest dislocation in their normal processes of distribution causes the greatest convulsions in various sections of Chinese society. If you, for instance, disturb or should disturb in the slightest degree the distributive system of their food, you might well have fifty million men, fifty million people, starving at any one time.

"They live only a couple of jumps ahead of starvation. In other materials, they are almost as bad. They have practically no indigenous products that they can manufacture. They have no great manufacturing centers whatsoever.

"They are peculiarly vulnerable to the process of blockade, and the process of internal disruption by bombing. . ."

SENATOR FULBRIGHT then made this point:

". . . I am a little more worried about Russia not coming in than I am of her coming in in China, because if we become committed there, it seems to me she really is given a free hand in Europe and in the rest of the world, the Middle East and Europe, if we really become committed to the point of having to supply very large forces of ground troops, and particularly air power. That is what really bothers us."

This is the theme of the Acheson-Marshall-Truman concept of our problem. It is the reason why General Eisenhower is in Europe. It was the reason for the Truman doctrine, which involved aid to Greece and Turkey. It is the basis for the North Atlantic Alliance and for the $26,000,000,000 of European aid that we provided between 1945 and 1950. In fact, one can go back and even assume that this fear dominated Roosevelt at Teheran and Yalta—namely that Stalin had to be appeased or he would conquer Europe.

To all this General MacArthur answered:

"THE ALTERNATIVE, senator, is to sacrifice thousands and thousands and thousands of American boys month after month after month.

"Not only that, but you will have sacrificed, if you keep on indefinitely, the entire Korean nation and people. The high moral reason for our intervention in Korea was to save Korea. If you do not continue and save her, you are going to destroy her."

The challenge in that must be answered. General MacArthur has already stated that although he was the man on the spot, he was never consulted as to whether we should go into the Korean war or not. He was called on the telephone and given orders to go in. We know that the Wedemeyer report, submitted to the President on September 9, 1947, contained all the warnings of dangers which we are now witnessing. That report was ignored and suppressed until the MacArthur hearings. In fact, a part of it is still suppressed, a part apparently which deals with the weaknesses of Syngman Rhee and his administration.

WHEN THEN did we leap into this thing? Was this a calculated risk based on knowledge or one of those temperamental flights to which the President seems to be addicted?

General MacArthur added to his statement:

"I've been here two days now, and I have heard no proposition yet, outside of the one that the Joint Chiefs made and myself, which would offer any hope for a successful conclusion of the Korean struggle.

"I believe it would mean that if you don't attempt to bring this thing to a short and honorable conclusion, it means not only the indefinite sacrifice of life, but it means what is almost equally important, the complete degradation and sacrifice of our moral tone."

Senator Fulbright then entered upon a long debate concerning the nature and theory of communism, fascism, war and peace, and appeasement. And this gave General MacArthur an opportunity to denounce war as a method for settling international disputes. At one time, it looked as though Senator Fulbright were examining the general in basic communist and fascist theory, but it got nowhere because the essence of the MacArthur position is, don't get into a war in which you don't want to fight.

The New Senator

By JANE EADS

BLAIR MOODY, Michigan's handsome new senator is one of the capital's best ballroom performers—from samba to square dance. His wife Ruth, is his most enthusiastic partner.

But there's been little time for dancing for the former correspondent of the Detroit News, who was appointed after the death of Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.)

"He's had the reputation of being the hardest-working man in the Washington press corps," his wife says. "Now it looks like he's going to be one of the hardest-working senators. But its been fun so far. Blair always puts so much enthusiasm and energy into his work."

Petite, auburn-haired Mrs. Moody, the former Ruth Amadon Lang, born in New York and educated at Boston University, met her husband while she was working for the late Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy, then Attorney General.

They were married in 1940 and spent part of their honeymoon on Wendell Wilkie's hectic presidential campaign trip, part of it at their summer camp at Little Lake Sabago, Me.

Proudest witnesses at the Senator's recently swearing-in ceremonies on Capitol Hill were the Moody's young sons Christopher, 8, and Robin, 4. The Senator has another son by a former marriage, Blair, Jr., 23, a second-year law student at Ann Arbor.

While the Moodys like to go out dancing and thoroughly enjoy the cocktail round (though the Senator is a tee-totaler) they enjoy their evenings at home with the boys.

Being married to a newspaper man, Mrs. Moody naturally has kept a lively interest in the issues of the day, and has been doing all the paper work for Mr. Moody's radio program in which he moderates a weekly panel of four congressmen. She's more than ever involved now answering the hundreds of congratulatory letters her husband received after his appointment.

"I expect to help him with his campaign for election to the Senate in 1952. We miss spend as much time as possible in Michigan and I shall appear with him as often as he needs me," she explained.

Would she like to see her husband run for the presidency one day? I asked.

"Over my dead body," she replied.

Strong for Texas

FRANKFURT, Germany —(AP)—West German youngsters like George Washington but they prefer Texas, the Wild West and cowboys. The illustrated booklet "Acht Grosse Amerikaner" (Eight Great Americans) has made a big hit with German school children. U. S. occupation authorities distributed the booklet to 10 schools — and then asked students between the ages of 10 and 15 to give their views on it. More than 80 percent said they liked the booklet which uses the comic book technique to illustrate the lives of Washington, Jefferson, Walt Whitman, Lincoln, George W. Carver, Andrew Carnegie, Jane Addams and Edison.

Almost all the children asked for booklets about life in America. But they said "please give us adventure tales and stories of the Wild West and Texas."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The President's New Piano

The piano industry gave a piano to President Truman the other day, making him the first President in history with a spare. Harry smiled and seemed very happy, but we can't think of anything that he really needed less in the present harassing moment. If the idea was that it would soothe the President and settle his nerves it came a little late and should obviously have arrived before the MacArthur recall. Still it must be some satisfaction for him to know that he has the piano makers of America behind him in the present situation.

Perhaps, after all, the gift of a piano to President Truman may not be a minor matter, a mere expression of good will. It could be of profound importance to the fate of the world. History may show that it played a part in saving America in a critical hour. Harry has been under a great strain and is clearly taut, hair-triggery and impulsive in a day that calls for poise and coolness. This new and super piano may give him greatly needed relaxation. Music hath charms to soothe the savage pen, as the saying goes.

PHILLIPS

Let's take an average day with Harry and see how a few appropriate tunes on the piano could help:

7 a.m.—He wakes up, calls for the morning paper and reads a stinging editorial by an opposition newspaper. He goes to the piano and plays "You're Driving Me Crazy," "You Gotta Stop Kickin' My Dawg Around," "Stormy Weather" and "Nobody Knows The Trouble I've Had."

7:30—Observes newspaper criticisms of failure to drop Ambassador O'Dwyer, and renders "Just Plain Bill."

7:45—Studies testimony of Generals Marshall, Bradley and others before Senate probers: "Doin' What Comes Natcherally," "I'll Be True To You in My Fashion," "Ask Me No Questions," and the "Douglas Boogie."

8:30—Gets news that General MacArthur is to go on a speaking tour: "Blow the Man Down," "I'll See You in My Dreams," "Stop! Stop! You're Breakin' My Heart," "The Trouble With Me Is You," and "Don't Blame Me."

9 a.m.—Hears that Mike DiSalle has issued another order causing wide criticism: "He's Too Fat For Me."

9:30—Looks at schedule and sees another review of the general tax situation is necessary: "Bewitched, Bothered and Bewildered," "I Can't Do That Sum," "Heaven Will Protect the Working Girl," and "Moanin' Low."

10 a.m.—Hears Republicans are planning another blast at Acheson: "Button Up Your Overcoat, You Belong To Me," "People Will Say We're in Love."

10:30—Reads prediction by G.O.P. leaders that he can't possibly win another term: "I'll Get By," "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles," "I Want What I Want When I Want It," and "Across The Wide Missouri."

11 a.m.—Press Conference: "I Need Sympathy," "Don't Fence Me In," "Ain't Misbehavin'."

Noon—Has talk with United Nations delegates: "Dancing Cheek to Cheek," "I Don't Want To Set the World on Fire," "Brother Can You Spare A Dime?"

2 p.m.—Gets early afternoon paper and reads speeches by Stassen and Taft on needs of the day: "I Can Do Anything Better Than You Can." Thinks over next election: "There's Yes, Yes in Your Eyes."

2:30—Dean Acheson calls in a mood of depression over continuing attacks: "Button Up Your Overcoat," "Because You're You," "Among My Souvenirs," and "Am I Wastin' My Time on You?"

3:30—Ghost writers arrive to discuss a speech: "Me and My Shadow."

3:45—Reads another Gromyko attack: "Who's Afraid of The Big Bad Wolf?"

4 p.m.—Hears chairman of G.O.P. has predicted Republican landslide in 1952: "The Gentleman Is a Dope," and "It Ain't Necessarily So."

4:15—Secretary advises a nap: "Little Man, You've Had a Busy Day."

MRS. THOMAS B. HURST

Vows Spoken By Miss Sally Nye, Thomas B. Hurst

THE PILGRIM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH in Harwichport, Mass. was the scene of the wedding of Miss Sally Nye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roswell H. Nye of Harwichport, and Thomas B. Hurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Hurst of 483 Vernon Heights boulevard, Saturday, May 5.

The single ring ceremony took place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon with the Rev. George W. Hylton, pastor emeritus, officiating. A reception followed at Wequasset Inn in East Harwich.

Escorted by her father, the bride was gowned in an ankle-length gown of white lace over taffeta, fashioned with an off-the-shoulder neckline. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was attached to a matching lace Dutch cap and she wore matching lace mitts. Her bouquet was of small white orchids, white pansies and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Donald A. Denison of Orange, N. J. She wore an ankle-length gown of lilac organdy embossed with white and a matching organdy duster coat. White gloves and a white hat covered with pansies completed her costume and she carried a straw hat filled with purple pansies and lilies of the valley.

Bridesmaids were Misses Norma Ritz of Minneapolis, Minn., Martha Hickey of Winchester, Mass., Betty Willis of Nashville, Tenn., and Meredith Arzt of Harwichport, Mass.

Day L. Hurst of Marion was best man for his brother. Ushers were Roswell H. Nye Jr, brother of the bride, of Harwichport, Mass., Donald A. Denison of Orange, N. J., Donald Heyburn and Henry M. Barkow of Cambridge, Mass.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Nye chose an afternoon dress of hyacinth blue lace with bolero jacket, navy picture hat and shoes. Her corsage was small white orchids with deep purple centers. Mrs. Hurst was gowned in a pale rose silk shantung afternoon dress with matching shantung shoes. Her hat was of lilac straw trimmed with a velvet rose and she chose white camellias for her corsage.

For travelling the new Mrs. Hurst chose a beige gabardine suit, tweed coat, a natural straw hat and luggage accessories. She wore a corsage of white orchids. The couple will spend two weeks in Bermuda after which they will live in Winthrop, Mass.

The bride attended the Northfield School for Girls, Connecticut College for Women and the Katharine Gibbs School in New York City.

Mr. Hurst was graduated from Carnegie Institute of Technology where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He is associated with Babcock & Wilcox Co. of New York. During World War II he served for three years with the U. S. Army.

Upon their return from a trip through Virginia and to Washington, D. C. the couple will be at home at 244 Hane avenue.

Erie Directors Vote 50-Cent Dividend

Meet Aboard Train Making Re-enactment Of Original Run

Special to The Star

DUNKIRK, N. Y., May 16 — "Icicles froze in hell" for the tenth consecutive year yesterday when Erie Railroad directors, holding a regular monthly meeting aboard the Erie's centennial train re-enacting the original run made 100 years ago, voted to pay a dividend of 50 cents per share of common stock.

The action by the board occurred while the train traveled between Elmira and Corning, N. Y., on its two-day journey, which started Monday from Piermont to Dunkirk, N. Y., over the identical route of 1851 when the road was first open for traffic.

Payment of the semi-annual dividend will be made June 18 to stockholders of record on May 25, Paul M. Johnston, president, announced.

Famous Saying

A famous saying in financial circles for many years was that "icicles would freeze in hell before Erie common paid a dividend." Erie has paid $1 annual dividends now continuously since 1942 with extras of 50 cents in 1948 and 75 cents in 1950.

Mr. Johnston reported the Erie's estimated net income for April at $394,755, or 9 cents a share on common stock before capital and sinking funds. In the same month last year, earnings were $867,599 or 28 cents per share. This brought the Erie's estimated net income for the first four months ended April 30 to $3,412,752 or $1.12 a share before capital and sinking funds, compared with $2,692,128, or 82 cents per share in the same period a year ago.

Estimated operating revenues in April were $14,402,020 compared with $12,417,433, an increase of $1,984,587 or 16 percent. For four months, revenues totaled $58,035,573 as against $47,555,916, an increase of $10,479,657 or 22 percent.

Estimated operating expenses for the month were $11,686,435 as against $9,383,535 in April a year ago, an increase of $2,302,900 or 24.5 percent. For the first four months, they were $43,808,319 compared with $36,966,500 last year, an increase of $6,841,819 or 18.5 percent.

Cars loaded on the Erie line and received from connections for the first nine days of May are running 10 percent over last month and two percent higher than a year ago.

M.P.S. Man Re-elected By Engineers

President At Annual Meeting

Jack F. Weis, chief electrical engineer of the Marion Power Shovel Co., was re-elected president of Marion Chapter, Ohio Society of Professional Engineers, at the annual meeting of members Monday evening in the club rooms of the Loyal Order of Moose, No. 1167, at Delaware.

Other officers elected were R D Seidel of Marion, associated with Floyd G Browne and Associates, vice president; Francis W. Norris of the Marion Power Shovel Co re-elected treasurer; G Rex Kilbourn, plant engineer of the Marion Power Shovel Co., trustee to the Ohio Society Merle I Johnson of Delaware, alternate trustee; Robert Bergmann of the Marion Power Shovel Co engineering department, and G H. Probst of Marion, members-at-large, board of directors

Engineer Speaks

Ralph J. Lehman of Columbus, assistant chief engineer, division of location and design of urban highways, Ohio State Highway Department, addressed the professional engineers on the subject of "Highways." His talk was illustrated by slides, projected by John E Rowe of the state highway department

Mr Norris was chairman of the meeting in the absence of President Weis Mr Lehman was introduced by John Eishen of Delaware

Preceding the talk by Mr Lehman, the group of 25 professional engineers from Marion, Delaware and Morrow Counties attended a chicken dinner in the Moose Club. One new member, D. G. Wysong of Marion, was received. The engineers informally approved a uniform method of badge identification for members at meetings but withheld action on the matter until a future meeting. The members of the chapter plan to hold a ladies' night dinner and meeting in June

Discusses Findings

Mr Lehman discussed in detail a summary of the principal findings and recommendations of the engineering and management studies of Ohio's highways, roads and streets. The digest of the report explained by the Ohio Highways Commission executive was prepared for the Ohio Program Commission and the Highways Study Committee.

Mr Lehman brought the national system of interstate highways to the visual attention of his audience by presentation of a slide depicting the entire scope of the nationwide highway system

Discussing road-building costs, Mr Lehman said that "it is cheaper to build a new highway facility than to remodel an existing facility." He declared that an eight million dollar loss is represented in the maintenance problem caused by frost damage to Ohio highways and this has helped exhaust highway funds.

Tells of Turnpike

Giving considerable attention to the current discussion of proposed extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike into Ohio, Mr. Lehman stated that he estimated that the Ohio section of the turnpike could be constructed in two or three year after the first contracts were consummated, possibly by February, 1952. He said that it is possible the turnpike could be built from Pennsylvania to the Toledo area

Engineers and guests attending the meeting were from Marion, Mr. Norris, Loy D. Rhoads, Mr. Wysong, Marion F. Cole, James S. Hotz, Robert W. Bergmann, W. A. Dunning, Eugene H. Moore, E. W. Woeppen, and Ivan Johnson; from Delaware, Merle I. Johnson, Thomas L. Gilliland, Charles E. Eliot, A A. Johnson, Walter R. Sharp, Harry Rapp, W. R. James, John Eishen, and R. N. Ricketts; from Columbus, Mr. Lehman and Mr Rowe; from Cardington, M. B. Richey; from Powell, Walter Schuette.

Terrorist Held After Gun Battle

TEHRAN, Iran, May 16—(AP)—A Moslem terrorist was arrested after a gun battle today with police, who said he was plotting to assassinate Premier F. Mohammed Mossadegh.

The Moslem was identified as the number two man in Fedayan Islam, the fanatical religious secret society which is held responsible for the slaying of former Premier Ali Razmara in March. Police quoted him as saying "Mossadegh is lucky I am caught. Otherwise he would have been shot within the next two or three day."

ask for a committee vote on whether the chairman acted correctly.

Wiley told Russell he didn't want to delay the testimony of Bradley, who is to be excused after today's hearing to attend Armed Services Day functions Friday and Saturday in California.

Russell replied that he thinks the committee ought to decide on the issue raised by Wiley before it proceeds with testimony.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) backed Russell's view He demanded that the committee go anead and decide the issue

The conference Bradley was asked about was at the White House on April 6. Five days later, President Truman announced the dismissal of MacArthur from his Far Eastern commands.

MacArthur Declined

During the committee argument, Russell pointed out that MacArthur, when before the senators, had declined to answer any questions about his private conference with President Truman at Wake Island last October. No issue was made of MacArthur's refusal.

Indirectly, Russell suggested that if Bradley was to be required to tell of his conference with Mr. Truman, then MacArthur would have to be brought back and required to tell of the private Wake Island conference

Russell said "all of the witnesses" would have to be "marched back" if Wiley's position was sustained.

Russell said he hoped "that we might settle these matters not as Republicans or Democrats, but as Americans around this table as a committee of the Congress of the United States, charged with a very definite and specific responsibility."

Mr. Grindell had filed the suit in an effort to have the court force the commissioners to accept his bid for a Marion County road program in 1950.

The suit was filed last June after commissioners had awarded the U. S. Construction Co. of Upper Sandusky the contract for drag treatment of county roads The bid of the U. S. Construction Co. was $70,497.32 while Grindell's bid was $70,219.55.

Mr. Grindell said he had requested his attorneys, Sanders and Grigsby of Marysville, to dismiss the suit because he was at present planning his summer road work.

Dulles Says Plan for Jap Treaty Slowed

Claims MacArthur's Firing Took Away Japanese Hopes

WASHINGTON, May 16—(AP)—John Foster Dulles Republican adviser to the state department, says the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from his Pacific commands "struck down" what the Japanese people regarded as "a symbol of a just and quick peace."

Dulles is conducting special negotiations to arrange a Japanese peace treaty. He spoke last night in a radio interview (C B S. "Capitol Cloakroom").

He said MacArthur's dismissal would not directly affect his peace treaty negotiations. But, he added in response to a question, the Japanese people are now afraid and unless they get a peace treaty soon "they will accept the keys to their jail—perhaps from Russia."

Primary Goal

Dulles said Japan is Russia's "primary goal" in the Far East. He called the invasion of South Korea part of a Russian plan to dominate Japan.

The special envoy indicated strong U. S.-British differences over how Japan should be treated. Referring to Japan he said:

"It is quite natural that the British would want to put restrictions on one of their strongest pre-war competitors, especially in regard to shipping and textiles."

Dulles will leave early next month for Britain to discuss the Japanese treaty.

"The United States," he said, "believes the only hope for the future in the Pacific is to develop a strong, peace-loving and independent Japan."

He declared the United States opposes letting Communist China—diplomatically recognized by Britain—have a hand in making the peace treaty for Japan. And the U. S. "believes the treaty should be concluded without the need for prior agreement on Formosa."

Formosa Problem

Republican critics of U. S. Far East policy have said the administration might hand over Formosa to Red China.

Dulles said the U. S. has told Australia and New Zealand that if Japan should ever again become a military threat to them the U. S. would be their ally. This would be done under what Dulles called a "triangular arrangement" for mutual defense in the Pacific.

Further, he said, the U. S. has proposed a "collective security pact" with Japan, as part of the peace treaty.

Dulles declared that President Truman and MacArthur are agreed on the need and content of a Japanese peace treaty. This agreement, he said, might lead to resumption of bi-partisan cooperation on Far East policy. He added that there had been "very little bi-partisonship and consultation" on Pacific affairs in the past four or five years.

No Intention Of Resigning, Acheson Says

WASHINGTON, May 16—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today he has "no intention" of resigning and intends to stay in the administration "as long as the President wants me to stay."

Acheson was asked about his attitude toward his job at a news conference and made this comment which he later authorized for direct quotation:

"I have no intention of resigning.

"The matter has been talked about many times and my position has been stated many times. I enlisted for the duration and am prepared to say as long as the President wants me to stay."

Acheson has been under heavy fire from Republican Congress members and there have been periodic reports that he was quitting. President Truman told his news conference last week there was no foundation in fact for the reports.

Agnew Handed 1-20 Sentence At Columbus

Former Marion Used Car Dealer Must Serve Another Term

Ronald Agnew, former Marion used car dealer, returned to Ohio Penitentiary today from the Franklin County Jail with an additional 1-to-20-year sentence to serve.

He pleaded guilty Monday in Franklin County Common Pleas Court to driving an automobile without the owner's consent and received a sentence of 1 to 20 years

Agnew is already serving a five year sentence after conviction in Common Pleas Court here on a charge of making a false affidavit to secure an auto title He had previously spent six months in the county jail here in lieu of a $5,000 fine.

When Agnew pleaded guilty Monday in Columbus, Franklin County Prosecutor Ralph Bartlett dismissed 11 other charges of auto larceny and receiving stolen property.

First Indicted Here

Agnew was indicted first by a Grand Jury here on three counts arising out of an alleged interstate stolen car racket which cost 18 local residents approximately $18,000. They bought cars, from Agnew's Owens street lot, which later turned out to have been stolen.

He was given a suspended sentence and placed on a five years' probation by the local Common Pleas Judge Paul Smith on the provision he make good the losses of the people he swindled. He failed to do this and was fined $5,000 and sentenced to the penitentiary.

Grand Jury indictments here against Agnew still stand, Prosecutor Ralph Carhart said today He has never been tried here on two counts still against him, one for making a false affidavit to secure an auto title and one for receiving and concealing stolen property, Mr. Carhart said.

Consecutive Sentences

The Franklin County Clerk of Courts office said Agnew's new sentence is to run consecutively. He will have served the minimum on his present sentence day after tomorrow. His attorney Frank Wiedemann, says Agnew is now eligible for parole on this sentence. Should the parole board grant him a parole he then begins serving his new 1 to 20 year sentence.

groups will meet at 9 a.m. at their assigned posts.

Following a plan adopted in many other cities, graves of the veterans will not be decorated with flowers this year. This departure was made by the committee, following experiences in other years, when, due to a shortage of flowers, there were not sufficient bouquets to decorate all the graves.

Instead, the deceased veterans will be honored by the placing of a permanent wreath in the cemetery chapel in memory of the veterans of all wars The wreath will be carried in the parade and placed in the chapel by the president of the day, Elmer R. Bondley. Graves of the veterans will be marked with an American Flag on Saturday, preceding the Memorial Day exercises.

D J. MacDonald is general chairman of the committee in charge of plans for the exercises. C. M. Rogers is speakers' chairman and Harry G. Baker, program chairman Walter Melby, commander of Marion Camp No. 32, United Spanish War Veterans, is vice president of the day.

Three bands, Harding High School, Claridon High School and the Eagles bands will take part in the parade

Ship Gorilla's Body To Medical School

NEW YORK, May 16—(AP)—The embalmed body of Makoko—the lovelorn gorilla who couldn't swim — was shipped yesterday to Harvard University's medical school for study.

The great ape's brain goes to Columbia University.

Bronx Zoo officials yesterday described the 440-pound, 14-year-old gorilla as "the finest specimen in the world."

Makoko drowned Sunday when he accidentally slipped into a deep moat around his pen. His value has been estimated at $75,000.

His lady-love, 12-year-old Oka, seemed undisturbed by the death of her intended mate. A zoo official said she didn't miss Makoko.

The two big apes were to have been mated in an attempt to breed captive gorillas for the first time.

Rugged New Dump Truck Designed By Metal Products Co. On Display

The Marion Metal Products Co. of Cheney avenue has a new type superscored dump truck on display at the Annual convention of the American Mining Congress in the Public Auditorium at Cleveland which started yesterday and will run through Thursday.

The truck, a new type design, the first of its kind built here, is a 15-ton off-the-highway type such as is used in strip mines throughout the country with a special quarry-type body and twin cylinder, telescopic hydraulic hoist.

The body and hoist were designed and built by the Marion Metal Products Co. The truck chassis was designed and built by the Sterling Motor Truck Co. of Milwaukee, Wis.

Both the truck and body are receiving their first public showing at the Mining Congress since the unit is a recent joint development of the two companies.

Rugged Equipment

Equipment of this type must be specially designed to withstand the combined effect of loading under large power shovels and operation over very poor roads and in some cases no roads at all. R. E. Craven, chief engineer of the Marion Metal Products Co., explained.

The truck is equipped with a 225 horsepower diesel engine and has ten speeds forward and two reverse. It weighs 21,350 pounds without the dump equipment. The body and hoist combined weight is 13,500 pounds making a total vehicle weight of 34,350 pounds. When fully loaded the gross weight will be about 32 tons.

The body has a capacity of ten cubic yards, is twelve feet long and is made of steel plate three-eights inches thick. The floor is protected by a wood cushion made of three-inch thick oak planks over which is laid an armor plate made of one-half-inch thick steel. The box type bracing and canopy over the truck cab is made of quarter-inch steel plate. The body weight alone is about five and one-half tons.

A feature of units of this type gle. When reaching maximum tilt the body angle is 70 degrees from horizontal.

To provide positive return of the body it was necessary for Marion Metal's engineers to develop a special type hydraulic hoist which would provide power both in the up and down direction. The hoist is equipped with special telescopic jacks modified so as to make them double acting.

Designing Engineer

Paul F. Baker was designing engineer in charge of creating the new truck bed and hoist.

Fred Smith, mounting department foreman was in charge of placing the newly designed and built bed and hoist on the truck chassis.

Shop construction was under the direction of L. C. Dickerson, superintendent and Lester Alexander, production manager. J. M. Strehtz is company president and G. E. Herr, vice president and general manager.

A number of company officials expect to visit the display at Cleveland during the week.

That's what we're here for!

● Before you paint your house, consider the condition of the surface and the years of protection you expect. For long-range economy, use a first coat of Pratt & Lambert House Paint Primer over an old paint surface that does not show scaling or checking. Then apply a coat of P&L House Paint.

● True, a one coat job over an old surface in good condition will give satisfactory results but it will not give the years of lasting service a two-coat job provides. And on new wood, a coat of primer and two coats of house paint are always better.

● Above all, use Pratt & Lambert House Paint and Primer for adequate spreading, hiding and weather resistance. Remember, good paint is the smallest part of the cost of a paint job!

● If you wish more information on this or any other paint problem, we are here to serve you.

Save the surface and you save all!

U. S. Citizenship Worth $250,000? Ohioan Has Choice

AKRON, O., May 16 (AP)—Would you, a native American, live there the rest of your life for an estate worth $250,000?

Salesman James N. Gape of nearby Cuyahoga Falls has the choice, but can't decide. Neither is his wife.

Recently his brother, Kenneth, sent a line for the inheritance if James doesn't take it—already has made up his mind.

"I don't want it and I don't want my brother one either," declared Kenneth, who lives in Detroit. "I don't want to be an Englishman and do nothing but sit around and have tea and crumpets."

What's more, he said, "I don't want my children to grow up where there's no incentive for advancement and where they can have only one egg a week."

Both brothers work for the Jenkins Bros., a New York valve manufacturing firm.

The estate was left to James by the brothers' British cousin, Mrs. Sibyl Gape. It includes 1,000 acres of beautiful rolling land in Cambridgeshire, England, two manor houses and some securities.

There is just one catch—the recipient must live in England the rest of his life. Both brothers are naturalized citizens and therefore would lose their U. S. citizenships by law after three years in England.

James has until June 30 to decide.

If neither of the brothers accept the inheritance, a nephew of Sibyl Cape gets third chance to meet the provisions of the will.

He should not have to hesitate. He's British.

Bushes Blooming On Lilac Trail

One of the most attractive spots now and for the next two or three weeks, is the lilac trail on Vernon Heights boulevard near the Harding Memorial.

The bushes are beginning to bloom and the vari-colored flowers provide a picture worth viewing. The flowers for the most part are Asiatic and there are some French variety.

The trail is kept up by the Marion Garden Club members as a community project. The members have spent a great deal of time working on the trail and the result has been most gratifying to them as well as the general public. The members will meet Wednesday of this week to continue the beautification of the trail.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

There was something in my father's voice as he put his question to Mr. Olsen, the rotund, capable manager of the Hotel Lansfield, which in a less poised man would have meant incipient panic But in another instant he had put his whole mental mechanism under its usual control.

'Don't leave out any details," he said 'Let me know exactly what you mean"

But I could wait no longer I could not stand listening at the door, and I must remind my father of the luncheon which would come up from the dining room within a few minutes So I sounded the old - fashioned knocker which the Lansfield affects, and Dicky opened the door immediately

'Come in'" my father directed me "This concerns you as well as us"

Dicky put me into a chair opposite my father, and "The Chief" looked at me keenly.

'We were just discussing something momentous,' he said 'But we will hear your errand first"

I wanted to report that Faith, Mother Graham and young Peter are safely out of sight in the bedroom, and will stay there until luncheon is served, and that I expect Room Service up in ten minutes"

My father looked at his watch "Will you please get them on the telephone," he said, "and tell them to delay the luncheon for ten more minutes"'

The telephone was at the head of Dicky's bed, and he had put me into a chair near it I took it up, got Room Service, gave them my message, and replacing the receiver, looked over at my father

"All arranged," I told him

"Good'' he commented Now, I'll brief you for a second Mr. Olsen just has said that he fears the Philip Veritzen suite has one vulnerable point Will you please explain, Mr Olsen?"

The manager plainly was troubled and perplexed, but his voice was steady.

"You know,' he began, 'that we have a large open space on the roof, where in nice weather, the guests can go up and sit, or walk around"

'I understand that ' my father said, although I never have seen it"

'It is directly opposite the Veritzen suite," Mr Olsen went on, "although quite some distance away But it commands a view of the windows, and we could not keep the knowledge of people in the suite from people on the 'roof garden' as we call the space"

'I see," my father said, pulling at the lobe of his left ear, sure sign that something was perplexing him Then he snapped his fingers, and I knew that a solution had come into his mind

"Andbody up there now?" he asked

"I don't know, but I can find out," Olsen said

My father gestured to the telephone.

"Please do so at once" he said and Mr Olsen came over to my side, and lifted the telephone

"Adams," he said and I thrilled to the knowledge that Adams, the efficient house detective who had seen us through many chrises, would soon be on the other end of the wire

The next second Mr. Olsen spoke the name again

"Adams?"' he said "Good' Please go up to the roof, and report to me how many people are up there Also, tell the elevator men to say that the roof garden has been closed temporarily because of a leaky faucet Nobody is to go up there until I give the word. When you have looked at the roof garden, come down to the Graham suite I will see that you are let in"

Planes Near Speeds Too Fast For Eye

Supersonic Ships Will Travel Half Mile Before Being Seen

DENVER, May 16—(AP)—Airplanes are verging on a speed zone too fast for the human eye.

Supersonic planes of the future, it was explained to the Aero Medical Association yesterday, will travel about half a mile, before the pilot of another plane even recognizes what they are. And if you are on the ground, they will come that much closer before yau can even scream.

This report on visual problemc of supersonic flight was made by Dr. Richard A Byrnes, of the U S. Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Field, Tex. The delay in seeing, he said, is in the human eye itself, the time it takes nerves to register an image at the back of an eye and for that image to be transmitted to the brain

If, he said, a supersonic plane comes into view traveling at 1,860 miles an hour, it will go about a fifth of a mile before it is even seen. That is because the eye and brain take between taree hundredths to three tenths of a second to see at all.

But in that distance the brain will not recognize that the oncoming object is a plane. The onlooking pilot would not know he was seeing a plane until the supersonic thing had gone half a mile.

Dr T H. Sutherland of South State street, secretary-treasurer and business manager of the Aero Medical Association, is attending the convention.

New TB Hospital at O.S.U. Needs 104 Registered Nurses

THE OHIO TUBERCULOSIS Hospital, above, at Ohio State University is nearing completion. A tentative opening date has been set for July if a sufficient nursing staff can be recruited.

The new Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital at Columbus will open in July but 104 registered nurses must be recruited before that date, Dr. Robert Browning, medical director, announced today.

The new hospital is part of the new Health Center at Ohio State University and is operated by the Ohio Department of Health Pay scales of the 104 nurses needed will range from $264 a month for head nurses to $220 monthly for all staff nurses. Dr. Browning said the July opening may hinge on whether sufficient nurses can be procured. Although nurses with tubercular experience are preferred, any registered nurse's application will be accepted, Dr Browning concluded.

Rheumatic Fever Still Cause of Heart Disease

Rheumatic fever continues to be one of the major causes of heart damage Primarily a disease of children and young adults rheumatic fever is estimated to attack two out of every hundred school children in this country and is the cause of 98 percent of all cases of heart disease in persons under 20 years of age.

Rheumatic fever usually comes on gradually. A child at first may feel tired, look pale, and not have a great deal of energy. He may develop pain and swelling of the joints, and then the physician may detect evidences of damage to the heart. It is an interesting fact that in many cases the attack of rheumatic fever develops after the youngster has suffered from a cold or sore throat.

Certain studies seem to indicate that rheumatic fever is perhaps a form of allergy or oversensitivity to poisons formed by the hemolytic streptococci germs. Hence, any attack of sore throat with these germs could lead to the development of rheumatic fever.

A number of efforts have been made to prevent rheumatic fever by treating sore throat promptly. Of course, any child who has had one attack of rheumatic fever and who develops a sore throat should receive treatment with penicillin or one of the other antibiotics at once. Since there is a tendency for rheumatic fever to run in families, treatment with penicillin should not be delayed in such families, should sore throat develop. Children in these families who develop an acute infection of the nose and throat should be treated at once with the sulfonamide drugs or the antibiotics. It might even be a good idea when one member of the family develops a sore throat for the other members to receive the antibiotics or sulfonamide drugs as a preventive.

Children who have had rheumatic fever should, of course, keep out of contact at all times with the sick. They should be kept comfortably warm, receive a well-balanced diet, and avoid overcrowding and chilling. All of these measures may do much to reduce the number of cases of rheumatic fever. In Chicago, La-Rabida Sanitarium is especially well equipped to give this type of care.

Why Risk It?
You can never be sure how long it will be before some burglar or hold-up man will decide you are ripe for picking. When that time comes what insurance protection will you have? The time to discuss insurance against theft is NOW. Delay may be mighty risky.

RINGSIDE IN THE LIVING ROOM. Marion's TV-minded fight fans have already begun arguing over who will be the welterweight champion of the world after Friday night's battle between Kid Gavilan and Johnny Bratton.

Both fighters have their loyal followers with one camp predicting that the flashy Cuban is too busy a workman for the fight-it-out tactics of his opponent while the other half predict hard-hitting Bratton will get across his Sunday punch to cop the crown.

NO RHUMBA. This sports desk likes Kid Gavilan with even the possibility that the "Keed" will slip one over on the fragile jaw of Bratton. It will be remembered that Ike Williams was one of three fighters to break Bratton's jaw.

But if we were in Gavilan's corner Friday night we would tell him to forget that colorful rhumba step followed by the bolo punch. It's good showmanship whether it lands or not, but Bratton is a two-fisted puncher to change the step to a jitterbug wobble if he hits his opponent's chin.

GLADIATORS. This business of picking the winner in the fight racket is far more complicated than, say, choosing Army's football eleven over New Mexico or the New York Yanks over the other seven clubs in the major leagues.

Ask any trainer and he will tell you it's much simpler keeping a football or baseball player in condition than handling a temperamental prize fighter who believes he's a holdover from the gladiators of Caesar's time.

Although the days of drinking from a lady's slipper are a thing of the past there are still enough playful boxers around to form a corps to keep our Arthur Murray in clover for the day.

Both Gavilan and Bratton are fine young men not addicted to getting their elbows. So before we went out on a limb to name the Cuban puncher it would have been advisable to learn his right-left habits for the past week to see how his mental attitude is and how much he evaluates the fact.

NO REPORTS. By then, however, the fight would have been over and we would have been ready to explain how it was possible for the winner to win. Monday quarterbacking is OK in football, but will draw few brickbats in the fight game.

Nevertheless, here's one vote for Gavilan. Will we back it up with money? Certainly not. Our report on Gavilan hasn't come in yet.

BATTING — Nelson Fox, White Sox 2b, first major league home run with a man on base in the 11th inning to give Chicago a 9-7 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

PITCHING — Ewell Blackwell, Reds, pitched a one-hitter, fifth inning double by Bob Elliott, to win a hurling duel from Vern Bickford and the Boston Braves, 1-0. Blackwell allowed only two hits, one a seventh inning home run by catcher John Pramesa.

White Sox Skipper Pulls Fast One on Boston; Red Pitcher Hurls One-Hitter

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ted Williams cracked his 300th home run. Only nine others had accomplished this feat.

Ewell Blackwell and Vern Bickford hooked up in a brilliant pitching duel that produced only three hits in the Cincinnati-Boston game. Blackwell allowed one hit to win, 1-0. Only twice before in the last 50 years have there been games in which fewer hits were made.

Yet, these exploits had to take a back seat yesterday to a bizarre stunt pulled by a rookie manager who once was billed as the "switch-hitting, ambidextrous pitcher from Waxahachie" (Texas).

This is how Paul Rapier Richards, in his first year as leader of the Chicago White Sox, stole the baseball thunder.

With his team leading the Red Sox, 7-6, and southpaw swinging Ted Williams leading off for Boston in the last half of the ninth, he replaced righthander Harry Dorish with lefty Billy Pierce. But Dorish did not go to the bench. Instead, Richards benched third baseman Orestes Minoso and moved pitcher Dorish there. Pierce got Williams on a high pop fly to the shortstop behind second. Richards then returned Dorish to the mound, Pierce back to the bench and sent Floyd Baker to third.

The Red Sox got their tying run anyway, but the White Sox won in the 11th when Nelson Fox poled a two-run homer for a 9-7 triumph. Williams' 300th and seventh of the season came in the fourth.

Babe Ruth once left the mound for right field for one batter, then returned. He was pitching for the Red Sox.

Richards, himself, once started a game for Muskogee in the Western Association as a shortstop, but eventually went to the mound in relief. The first batter he faced was lefthanded. Richards pitched lefthanded to him. The next hitter was righthanded. So Paul put his glove on the other hand and pitched righthanded.

Blackwell threw a one-hitter in one of the tightest pitching battles ever waged. Bickford, the loser, allowed only two hits the two righthanders, shooting for their second big league no-hitters, went into the fifth before Bob Elliott doubled off Blackwell for the first hit of the game.

Bickford surrendered his first hit in the sixth—a double by Connie Ryan. Cincinnati's second hit won the game. It was a home run by Catcher John Pramesa.

Blackwell pitched a pair of one-hitters last year.

The major league record for the fewest hits made by both teams in one game is two.

The victory moved the Reds out of the cellar into sixth place. Back again into the basement fell the New York Giants who dropped a 7-3 decision to Bill Werle and the Pirates in Pittsburgh.

Brooklyn strengthened its first place hold with an 8-4 victory over the clubs in Chicago. Two homers by Gil Hodges, a grand slammer by Duke Snider and another round tripper by Jackie Robinson, accounted for all but one of Brooklyn's runs.

A pinch single by Bill Nicholson with the bases loaded in the ninth gave the Philadelphia Phils two runs and a 5-4 victory over the Cards in St. Louis. The win moved the Phils into a third place tie with Pittsburgh.

Detroit handed Sandy Consuegra his first loss as the Tigers pounded out 14 hits for a 12-4 victory over Washington. Hal Newhouser spaced nine hits for his third win.

The St. Louis Browns won a free-swinging battle from the Athletics in Philadelphia, 11-8. Gus Zernial hit two homers for the Athletics for the second straight game. Ned Garver was the winner. He has won five of the seven St. Louis victories.

Leaders in A.B.C. Remain Same

ST. PAUL, MINN., May 16 — (AP)—It was a quiet day, scoring wise, in the American Bowling Congress tournament yesterday.

The leaders in the four divisions were never seriously threatened, and they aren't expected to be in any danger much before tonight.

The day's top performance was a 1,239 total in the doubles by a Teaneck, N. J., pair, James Lago and Stan Niemic. Lago had a 657 and Niemec a 632 series. Morris Eakins and Carl Richards of Parsons, Kans., had the second high doubles count of 1,245.

G.I.s, Bird-McGinnis On Top

Two Unbeaten In Commercial League

G. I. Post and Bird-McGinnis registered impressive wins last night in the Commercial Softball Loop to reign as the only unbeaten crews in the league after only two weeks of play.

Jimmy Kunkle, G. I. hurler, shut out K. & W. 11-0 with a one-hit masterpiece. A single to center in the fifth frame by Fred Spurlock ruined Kunkle's bid for a no-hitter. The diminutive mounsman posted six strikeouts. The G. I. squad posted their 11 runs on nine hits, including a double and two triples.

Bird-McGinnis pounded the Marion Star, 15-0, in a game called at the end of the fifth inning by a 10-run ruling of the Marion Softball Commission. The Legion crew tapped out only four hits in the third inning but totaled eight runs when The Star committed two errors and a base on balls. A long triple by Jenkins unloaded the bases for the big blow of the inning. The newsboys were able to get to Meadley for only two hits and registered five fielding miscues.

Carl's Auto Parts bounced back from their opening loss to trounce Waldo, 5-1. The walks and a fielder's choice in the sixth gave the winners their edge after they had gone ahead, 3-1, in the fifth.

Smitty's All-Stars posted their first win of the season by pounding out a 14-2 verdict over Wilson's Recreation. Fat Millisor went on the mound for the winners and allowed five hits as his mates were pounding out 12 safeties off Ambrose. McGraw of the All-Stars belted a homer in the fifth with the bases empty. The All-Stars were beaten in the opener last week by G. I. Post.

Big Luke's Knee Still Weak

Easter's Return Gives Indians Needed Punch

NEW YORK, May 16—(AP)—Benched 18 days with a knee injury, big Luke Easter is scheduled to return to the Cleveland Indians' lineup today against the New York Yankees.

Tribe Trainer Wally Bock said that although Easter's knee still is weak, "maybe he can go seven innings, maybe nine. But he'd better quit when it gets tired."

Luke had a .423 batting average when he was sidelined April 28, getting 11 hits for three runs in 26 times at bat. Manager Al Lopez says he will start him in the No. 4 batting slot, behind Larry Doby and ahead of Al Rosen.

Back To Bench

Easter's return sends Rookie Harry Simpson back to the bench. A batting sensation in spring training, Simpson has replaced Luke capably on first base, but went hitless 23 times in a row before he beat out a bunt Monday night. That hiked his average from .191 to .200. He has batted in three runs in 14 games.

Lopez is starting Bob Lemon against another righthander, Vic Raschi, today as the Redskins seek their first win over first place New York.

At the season's start when most of the experts decided to go along with Boston one more time, Lopez took the view that the Yankees were his club's No. 1 problem.

Time has proved him right. Once well out in front of the Yankees, the Indians now are in fifth place and trail them by three and half games.

The Yankees have defeated the Redskins both times they met this season, each victory going to southpaw Ed Lopat who has racked up 11 straight over Cleveland.

Cuts Two

Cleveland cut its roster to the legal limit of 25 players yesterday by sending two pitchers to San Diego.

Jesse Flores was sold outright and Charley Harris was assigned on a 24-hour recall option. Cleveland purchased Flores last year from the West Coast club and he fashioned a 3-3 record. Harris was purchased for the $10,000 waiver price from the Philadelphia Athletics two weeks ago and made two relief appearances with the Indians.

Cleveland still has 11 pitchers, one more than Manager Al Lopez says he intends to keep. Still on the borderline are Geralk (Red) Hahn, drafted from Shreveport, and Johnny (Double No Hit) Vander Meer, ex-National Leaguer.

His semi-pro record stood at five wins and a single loss while in his four year career as a hurler for Holy Family High School at Auburn, he posted 20 wins against seven losses. One of his decisions was a 2-0 no-hitter. In addition to baseball Ching takes his regular turn on the basketball floor during the off months.

A.A. Race Tightens As Brewers Lose

By The Associated Press

Pitcher Bob Muncrief, former major league veteran, and newly-married Kal Segrist, a Texas rookie, stifled Milwaukee rallies last night to give Kansas City a 5-4 decision and a virtual tie with the Brewers for the American Association lead.

Kansas City, only 24 percentage points out of first place, scored four runs in the seventh.

At Indianapolis, Charley Maxwell, a Boston Red Sox castoff, sparked Louisville to a 6-3 win in his first appearance for the Colonels.

Toledo blew a 5-0 lead to lose 7-6 to Columbus. Two homers by Rookie Ralph Atkins and another by Bill Barnacle shot the Hens ahead. But Fred McAlister finally put the Redbirds in front in the seventh with a bases loaded double for three runs.

Ohio Senate Plans Pheasant Hearing

COLUMBUS, May 16—(AP)—A bill that would let private groups and individuals raise pheasants for hunting and eating may get its first Ohio Senate hearing tonight.

The bill is sponsored by Sen. William H. Deddens (R-Hamilton) and would set up two licenses.

The $2 license would let individuals or groups raise pheasants like chickens in enclosed areas. The birds could be dressed and sold as meat or sold alive to the state wildlife division, sportsmen's groups, or individuals.

The $100 license would let individuals or groups raise and shoot pheasants on private preserves. The hunting season would be from Sept. 1 to March 15. The current pheasant-hunting season is just 10 days.

All birds raised under the bill would be banded with bands the state wildlife division would sell for 10 cents each. The bands would have to stay on even butchered birds.

Sponsors say they plan an amendment to the bill that would have private propagators release so many birds in public hunting areas or give them to the wildlife division for release.

1949 Plymouth bruised-eye blue. Ring-side seats with canvas upholstery, boxer trunk, six-ounce glove compartment, sweat sox steering wheel, mouth-piece radio with cauliflower ear phones. This car has fought only 13,000 rounds. It is ready for the big time. The odds on this mileage battler is $1295 to nothing. Ted McArthur will fight anyone who buys this car.

1947 Oldsmobile Four-Door Sedan. Sea-mist green, automatic radio, automatic air-conditioning, automatic clutch pedal, automatic clock, automatic headlights, built-in ash trays for those who smoke, undercoating and air-ride tires. Hurry! Line forms at the right . . . no pushing or shoving. First here, first served.

1947 Mercury Club Coupe. Jungle green, female gazelle skin interior, elephant trunk, panther pistons, tiger tires with claws. Balanced engine has the strength of an untamed ape and the stealth of a boa constrictor. Frank Buck did not bring this car back alive. It can be bought without laying out too many cocoanuts.

1941 Buick Four-Door Sedan. Car equipped complete with self-starter, matched pair of sealbeam headlights, windows roll up and down. Has excellent speedometer that has been turned back several times. Car has had several previous owners, consequently, thoroughly proven. Don't be afraid . . . you may be next.

1941 Nash Four-Door Sedan. 10c per pound. Just think, you can ride all day at a price 1/10th less than sirloin steak.

1930 Model A Ford Roadster. Stops for blondes, slows down for redheads and backs up fast for brunettes. Only one left.

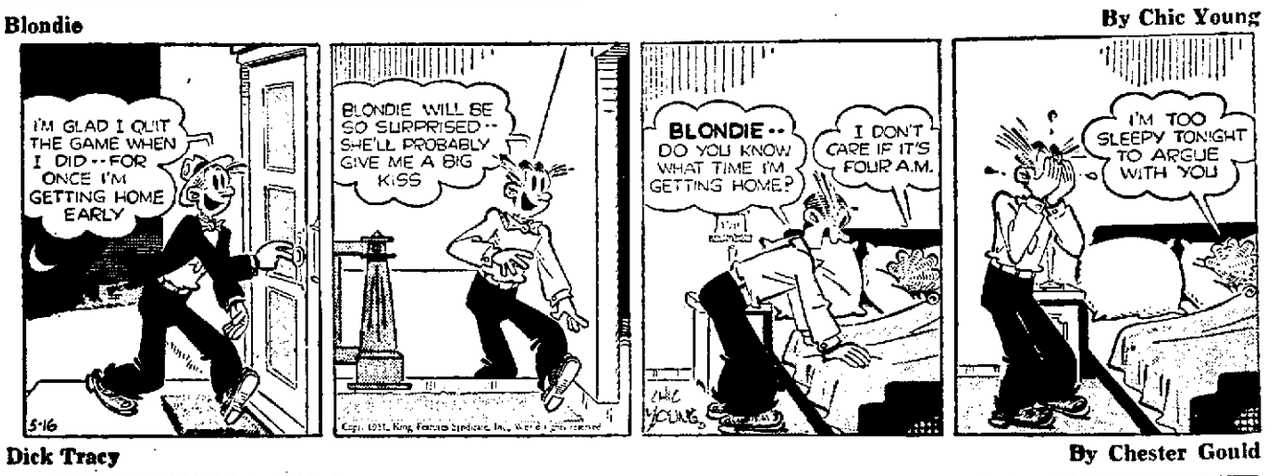
Steve Canyon By Milton Caniff

I SAY, CANYON, OLD BOY, WE HAVEN'T TURNED UP MUCH FOR YOU TO REPORT ON THE RED SUBMARINE DOLLIE YOU USED TO KNOW...
...BUT PERHAPS YOU COULD DO US A GREAT FAVOR BY SETTING US STRAIGHT ON THE HABITS OF YOUR YANKEE—AH—MOBSTERS...
GLAD TO, IF I CAN!
WE HEAR THERE ARE SOME OF YOUR AMERICAN UNDERWORLD CHAPS HERE IN HONG KONG CARRYING VARIOUS DOCTORED PASSPORTS, BUT THE BOOM IN SMUGGLED GOODS TO CHINA IS DRYING UP! WHAT CAN THEY BE DOING TO SUSTAIN THEMSELVES?
THEY COULD BE RUNNING GYP AUCTIONS OF WHITE WOMEN FOR WIVES OF LONELY TRADERS!
I SAY-THAT IS DROLL! NOW THINK IT OVER...WHAT MIGHT THEY REALLY BE DOING?

Blondie By Chic Young



I'M GLAD I QUIT THE GAME WHEN I DID--FOR ONCE I'M GETTING HOME EARLY

Mr. Michael Disalle will demonstrate for Congress on Friday how to carve up a steer . . . people who would like to see meat are invited to write for tickets.

Object of the demonstration is to prove that the price meat could be lower if the butcher was clever with his cleaver.

My butcher says all he knows is that for two years past he has had to buy his beef in the diamond market and, if Mr. Disalle will show him where to buy cheap he's willing to take his thumb off the scale voluntarily.

My butcher also says he sees some of the unions are going out for another wage increase making this the sixth round and he has noticed that the price of top round tops each round.

Jint, it is up to your research department to develop a wicker strong enough to make a firm wastebasket—
-but collapsible when filled with wastepaper and packed in a truck or car for return to the factory.
Made of paper, it merely becomes part of the waste product which is our raw material.
I can work it out, Mr. Wicker.
Do your best, Jint. Much depends upon it!
